

October 2018

Dear Friends of Trinity,

Our Lord Jesus came into our world to make the world right with God, for sure. But his death and resurrection also made us right with each other. That's because on the cross, Christ Jesus defeated the common enemies of us all, removed us from their bondage, and brought us into his everlasting presence and gave us his Spirit, who is the guarantor of life and salvation.

Somehow (and this is true of all of us) we become comfortable with our common enemies and convince ourselves that the resulting slavery isn't so bad after all.

I recently saw a tv show in which a woman who was kidnapped began to form a friendship with her kidnapper, even though the torture he inflicted on her was brutal. It's a wonder that she is still alive. But she used that friendship and that built trust to plan her escape. It was brilliant the way she accomplished her escape.

I tell that story, not to tell you to make friends with Satan, death, and sin, but to advise the exact opposite! These enemies are not necessarily torturous. In fact, they can come to you disguised as the perfect guest. But they only have one goal, and that is, to alienate you from your Savior for all time and eternity.

Remember this, though—even though we have these enemies, they are defeated enemies, and that makes all the difference. They continue to prowl us, but they cower in the presence of their conqueror Jesus. They aren't so tough after all.

Stand firm in the faith, my friends! Jesus has you in his everlasting arms. He has brought you through the enemy-devastating flood of Baptism. Our sin and rebellion, the devil and his minions, death and its sting have been drowned. We are safe on the ark of God's making, the Christian Church, in which we always receive His grace and serve Him with a joyful confidence of life eternal.

In Christ,
Pastor Hoag

UPDATE FROM OUR CHURCH COUNCIL PRESIDENT, JEFF MC DONALD

Allow me to make a different type of plea this month. The good news is - this one won't cost you a penny! Instead of talking about ways we can spend more money, I want to focus this month on an even more precious resource – your time. We have a great group of members at Trinity and your collective generosity never ceases to amaze me. When we need something, we rally together and we get it done. That same goal is attainable on a personal level too, though, so I wanted to talk about ways in which you can get more involved with the church this month.

Maybe the best way to do this is to tell my own story. I started attending Trinity in 1997. Like everyone else, I enjoyed the services and I particularly enjoyed the fact that I could get church in a few times each month without a whole lot of extra effort. I would read in the bulletins and newsletters about the church looking for a volunteer for one thing or another and I would always conclude in my mind that someone else would step up and fill that need. And someone always did.

I eventually caved in one Sunday when I was asked to fill in and usher. After more than 10 years of letting others volunteer to handle things at church, I took a small step and crossed over to the other side. Now I was suddenly one of the people responsible for ensuring our services ran smoothly at the church. After years of attending, I was strangely and suddenly needed at Trinity. But what struck me about this was how that small change in my participation at Trinity made my whole member experience at Trinity more rewarding. I have since become even more involved at Trinity and find this to be time well spent.

So here we are in October 2018 and I thought I would talk about some ways you (yes, YOU!) can get more involved at Trinity. The good news is that you don't have to do all of these things, but really consider one or more of them. If your experience is anything like mine, you will find that the biggest beneficiary of your enhanced servitude is none other than yourself.

For the men in our congregation, ushering is a once a month commitment and is a great way to get more involved. We have had some ushers serving for decades at the church and it would be great to see some new faces in this role. Ed Tatro and I are volunteering to show any new ushers what needs to be done, and there is also a book of usher duties already printed out that we can show you. This is a small time commitment but a great way to get involved. Please see me or Ed and we'll get you trained. We won't throw you to the wolves until you say you're ready!

For the women in our congregation, our Women's League group recently disbanded and Social Ministry has only limited numbers of members (fewer than 10). Your involvement in Social Ministry can be whatever you want it to be, but please give some thought to participating in this group to help ensure that it remains a viable group at Trinity. Similarly, we have a Chancel Guild who work to keep everything in order for our weekly services and that is another area where you could pitch in to help. See me, Pastor or any current member of Social Ministry or Chancel Guild for details of what these groups do. In the spirit of "many hands make light work," you will find that the more who participate on these committees, the easier it will be to get things done!

Open to any member are a number of other opportunities. They include being a greeter, reading a lesson, singing in the choir, being a coffee host/hostess and even serving on church council. Readers and greeters can sign up for any Sunday they want to do either function (or both). It's a great way to meet other members and it can be once or more than once - give it a try and see what you think. If you are musically inclined, give some thought to joining the choir. They meet every Wednesday at 7 p.m. and new voices are always welcome. If you've ever enjoyed coffee and refreshments after a service, then you know we rely on someone to prepare this for the congregation each week. We have some great volunteers who do this, but we can always use more. Try it out and see what you think. We have two vacant positions on church council now, and those are the co-Director of Outreach and the Director of Social Ministry. The first position can be anyone in the church and what we look for here is someone willing to think about ways to expand our reach into the community and potentially bring in new members. I started on council in this role and it was a rewarding experience. There are no right answers here and a new perspective is always welcome. The Director of Social Ministry should be a member of Social Ministry, so please give that committee some thought and also consider running for the Director position. There are many in our congregation who would be happy to guide you in this process. Council elections are for two-year terms and we meet once each month except for the summer months. Serving on council really gives you a great insight into what it takes to run the church. We have had some really great volunteers over the years on council, but new faces and new ideas are always welcome, so give some thought to joining council if this has any appeal to you.

For a more limited commitment, we're planning a landscape clean-up day in October where we will walk the grounds, pull weeds, rake leaves and otherwise tidy up the outside of the church. This is a half-day commitment at best and a great way to roll up your sleeves and put a little sweat equity into the church alongside your fellow members. If you'd like to join us for this, drop by on Saturday, October 6th around 8 a.m. Bring a rake or other garden tools and you'll be amazed at the difference we can make! Rain date for this will be Saturday, October 13th. Maybe being a coffee host/hostess appeals to you, in which case you can come and test your coffee making skills by making coffee for our landscaping volunteers that day.

There are other ways to get involved, but these are a few ideas that come to my mind. Please give these ideas some thought and see Pastor Hoag or any member of council with questions about these roles. We have a lot of people who give of themselves freely at Trinity now. The more people we have for these things, the stronger we will be as a congregation. I am appealing here particularly to those who haven't had these opportunities yet. We exist and thrive because of all of the volunteers who work behind the scenes at Trinity. If you haven't had the chance to serve in any of these capacities before, why not give it a try and see how it impacts your own member experience at Trinity? I have a feeling you'll be glad that you did!

However, the boy is very small and doorbell is too high for him to reach. Kneeling down next to the child, the pastor smiles and asks, “And now what, my little man?” To which the boy replies, “RUN”!!
